ST. LOUIS AT HOME ANNOUNCES THE 2015 ARCHITECT & DESIGNER AWARD FINALISTS

ST. LOUIS – St. Louis At Home is pleased to announce the finalists of the eighth-annual St. Louis At Home Architect & Designer Awards. In total, 42 local companies placed within 27 categories this year.

The panel of New York City-based judges for the 2015 St. Louis At Home Architect and Designer Awards competition consisted of Mario Buatta, internationally acclaimed interior designer and author; Robert Leleux, editor-in-chief of Domino magazine; Audrey Matlock, leader of Audrey Matlock Architect; and Marshall Watson of Marshall Watson Interiors.

The first-, second- and third-place winners of each category will be announced during an awards reception at The Coronado Ballroom on Thursday, Feb. 19. The elegant affair includes a three-course seated dinner, cocktails and live music. Additionally, St. Louis At Home will honor Buatta with the first-ever ADA Award of Distinction, sponsored by KDR Designer Showrooms. Tickets can be purchased at stlmag.com/designawards.

The first-, second- and third-place winners of each category will also be mentioned in the Spring issue of St. Louis At Home, which will be unveiled at the awards reception. The issue includes a feature on the contest, with photographs of all first-place works. St. Louis At Home's Spring issue is mailed to subscribers on Feb. 20 and is sold on newsstands beginning Feb. 24.

The 2015 finalists include:
